

Can I install SQL Server on a Domain Controller using the .bat file?

Last Modified on 10/06/2022 4:21 am EDT

Question

Can I install SQL Server on a Domain Controller using the .bat file?

Answer

No. The .bat file tries to use NT AUTHORITY\NETWORK SERVICE automatically. The .bat file does not have the proper permission on a Domain Controller. SQL installation must be run manually by using the .exe file.

Applies To

SQL Server 2008

Additional Information
